FOREWORD

Gentle and appreciative reader, the task of disarming criticism is fruitless. We do not ask you to praise this book, and we do not seek honor for an unappreciated work, because then the world would only give us pity. But when time, that inevitable promoter of old age, has added many years to your life, and you can glance through this book, and have again those youthful dreams, and live and feel again that close, binding friendship toward mankind which you felt while in college, then our task will seem to us a success. If, on the other hand, you pick up this book, and while turning its pages do not have fond reminiscences of college days, we will consider our work unsuccessful.

The Oglethorpe Woman's Board

WOMEN have always wanted to be a large part in the making of great dreams, so it was in January 1917 the Woman's Board of Oglethorpe was organized by a group of sixty women. This unique organization has now grown to a number beyond three hundred. It is an institution established as a natural co-worker with the Board of Founders of the university, but its aim is to supply the mother touch.

Someone expressed a thought to this effect, "If I had only two loaves of bread, I would sell one of them to buy hyacinths for my soul". The Woman's Board is providing the young men and women of Oglethorpe with the beautiful things, furnishing a delicate nourishment for their souls.

There is hardly an activity of Oglethorpe which does not find inspiration in the spontaneous support so generously offered by this group of noble women. The Woman's Board is divided into committees, each representing some particular phase of endeavor at the university. The orchestra, the infirmary, and the campus find special care in the hands of these splendid women. The Players' Club, the football team, and the co-ed basketball team have all known the thrill from the genuine interest taken in them.

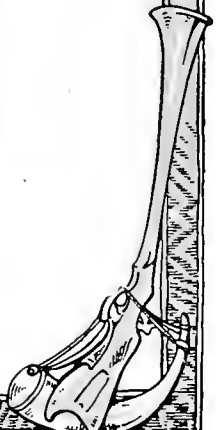

The personnel of the Woman's Board are leaders in the religious, patriotic, civic, and social life of Atlanta; they are friends who are building Oglethorpe in a hundred ways. A beautiful sentiment is one expressed by Mrs. Katherine Connerat, President of the Board, "Oglethorpe University looms large on the educational horizon, and in proportion to its growth, the mother board will enlarge its scope of usefulness."

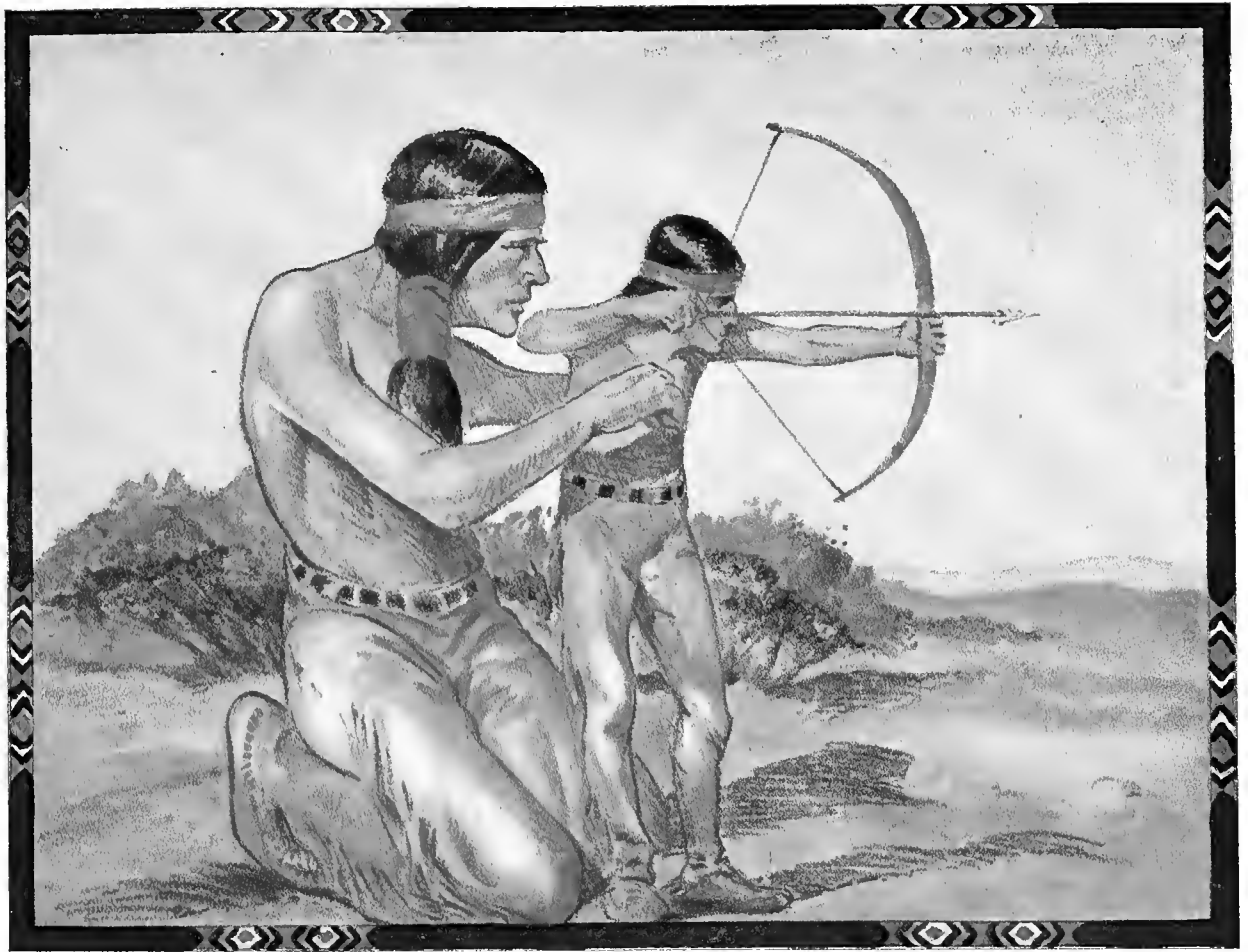

*Oh Woman! Mighty mother
Of us all,
Custodian of eternal love; joyful
In the doing of things great
For others
Embracing all, thy strong arm
Binds us close with subtle ties,
To pay our tribute, and receive
Thy gentle touch
More delicate than the soft rose petals
And quite as sweet,
To those in need of thee.*

Senior Class History

TIME in its ceaseless passage leaves along its trails scattered fragments that tell of a once living present that has blended itself with the past, that awful depository of the dead. In whatever time, under whatever circumstances, he may live, it is the duty of the historian faithfully to gather these scattered fragments together and weave them candidly into a true story that shall depict to the world the time of which he writes; not alone of its glories, its achievements, or its possible reverses, but also of the latent causes that have wrought out these results.

So kind reader let us go back to the fall of 1920, and I am sure that the theory of evolution will receive new support from the history of this class, for who would recognize the seniors of today as the freshmen of 1920.

In the beginning there were 112, the largest freshman class in the history of the school. They were mere college lads four years ago; now they are ready to enter the battle of life, well-equipped for its struggle and armed with the most powerful weapon of warfare, intellectual training and culture.

As beginners, we began early to endear ourselves in the hearts of the student body and the followers of the greatest college in the south, as David, Morris, Ivey, Whitehead, Bartenfeld, Adams, McGarrity, and Stephens were introduced to the Collegiate world by their work on the football team. The first resemblance of a track team for Oglethorpe was ushered into existence by Freshman Stephens and Ivey.

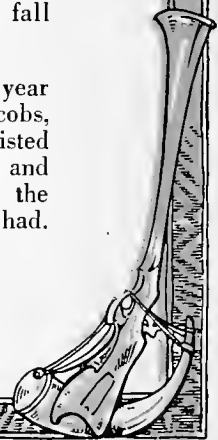

Our girls were active in the literary world, and Miss Helen Bagley and Miss Virginia Pairo were rewarded for their services by a place in the cast of the Oglethorpe Players Club.

In baseball we were well represented on the varsity by our classmates, David, Morris, Hafele, Adams, Jones and Thaxton all stars of the first water.

In our sophomore year we returned about 75 members. Others had fallen by the wayside, due to the financial crisis that engulfed the South in the summer and fall. To those who have already cast themselves upon the world we extend a cordial hand of brother-hood, and hope for them that brilliant success they are so earnestly seeking.

Ralph Sinclair, Bill Cox, Al Smith and Miss Lucy Pairo joined us in the fall and have proved valuable additions to the class of '24.

We were even more prominent in the athletic world in our sophomore year than in the year before; David, Morris, Whitehead, Bartenfeld, Stephens, Jacobs, Hafele and Ivey were members of the football squad. Stephens and Ivey, assisted by Cobb, were members of the track team. Ivey was Captain of the first track and field team that the University put out. Bryant joined David and Morris on the baseball team, and has proven to be one of the best catchers that we have had.

In the fall of '22 we lost several of our most valuable members; these boys were rewarded for their diligent work, and were allowed to migrate to the class of '23. Those taking the forward step were Lawrence, Burton, Frazer, Jacobs, Hightower, Watkins, Copeland, Hollingsworth, Johnson, Kersey, Stafford and Cobb.

This year we furnished the football team with Capt. David, Morris, Bartenfeld, Whitehead, Hafele, Stephens, Campbell and Brown. On the track were Ivey and Tucker. Campbell was a member of the tennis team; Red Frazer was captain of the Cross Country team; and Morris was captain of the baseball team and was ably supported by Bryant and David. Gladys Crisler and Virginia Pairo were members of the Oglethorpe Players Club.

In this our last year we received into our class Otis Jackson, Harry Teasley, Walter Gordy, Finch Scruggs, Wisdom O'Neal, Lawrence and Robert Pfefferkorn, Misses Christine Gore, Mattie White Kellam, and Elizabeth Broughton.

On the football team were Capt. Brown, Campbell, David, Morris, Bartenfeld, Whitehead, Stephens, Ivey and Gordy. Misses Kellam, Gore and Broughton are mainstays on the girls basketball team. Jackson is President of the Players Club, and will be supported by Misses Broughton, Pairo Sisters, Kellam, and Crisler. Capt. Bryant and Morris will see that we are well represented in baseball.

In scholastic standing we are especially proud of Miss Crisler, Al Smith, Lawrence Pfefferkorn and Wisdom O'Neal, for they have attained the highest honors that the University can bestow upon her sons and daughters. They are wearers of the Coat-of-Arms. Miss Crisler, Jackson, McMekin, David, L., Pfefferkorn and Brown are members of Honorary Fraternities.

The end of college days must inevitably come, and the class of '24 faces the future with no misgivings. Grateful to our Alma Mater for its invaluable educational training, bound to each professor by the ties of endearing friendship, we shall soon go forth to earn a reputation for ourselves.

The passing years will no doubt bring many changes. The raven locks will soon be silvered by the frost of time; the sparkling eyes will be dimmed; the noble brows will be furrowed; and the strong limbs will be enfeebled, but throughout all changes, the memories of our college days will remain fragrant and refreshing.

The members of the class of '24 will go into different fields of labor, will be separated by many miles of space, and, no doubt, many will never again meet. Yet in the after years, as memory turns their thoughts backward to the days of long ago, they will all respond in the words of the immortal bard:

*"Let fate do her worst, there are relics of joy;
Bright dreams of the past which she cannot destroy;
Which come in the night-time of sorrow and cares
And bring back the features that joy used to wear;
Long, long be my heart with such memories filled,
Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled.
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang to it still."*

—R. O. BROWN, Senior Class Historian.

THE CALL

*Dreamer, 'tis Morning,
 And the hour to achieve!
 But the pink flush of dawning
 Reveals you in ease.
 The webs you've been weaving are mystic and wise—
 Too fragile, too sacred, too high—to despise.
 Awake, do you say
 From my making of dreams?
 Awake from Utopia Isle?
 With my dreams a poet, a visionist, I—
 Without, unpatterned clay.
 So Truth and Reality away!*

*'Tis Morning, I say,
 And the thrush calls his mate,
 And the sunlight unravels your spell.
 The pictures you've painted,
 The castles you've built—
 Like the latent seed in the shell
 Lie dormant within!
 For what good if they be not real,
 And to what purpose if they come not true?
 So Dreamer, awake and achieve!*

COKE WISDOM O'NEAL, A.B.

Chipley, Georgia

PI KAPPA PHI

"Fate laughs at probabilities."

Secretary and Treasurer of Sophomore Class '22; Phi Kappa Delta (Honorary).

"Peggy" admits that he was born and raised in the sunny little Georgia town of Chipley, and it was there that he learned to be such an industrious salesman. Besides being a good salesman, O'Neal is a good sport with the girls, having one as his real sweetheart, who tells him that his mustache is the cutest thing. He is one of the most industrious men in our class. If you ever happened around you would find him busily engaged at something. He is never idle. He won the Oglethorpe Coat-of-Arms, which is the highest honor that the school can bestow upon her sons. This is proof of "Peggy's" initiative, and argues well for his future career.

"Now, it's like this—brushes."

CANDLER CAMPBELL, A.B.

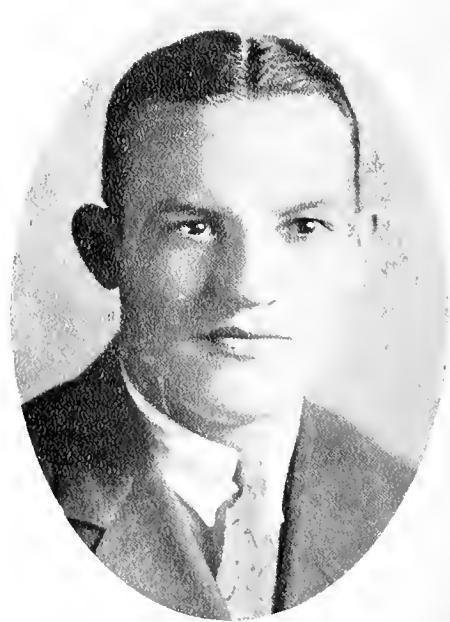

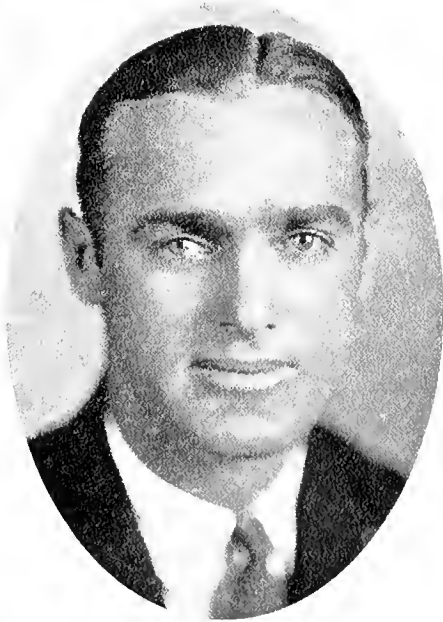

Marietta, Georgia

PI KAPPA PHI

"I'll sit by the side of the road and be a friend of man."

Football '22-'23; Scrub Football '20-'21; Tennis '21.

Candler was born, bred and still lives in Marietta. He makes us think that he doesn't care much for the fair sex, but a fellow with that slow winning smile that he possesses, just can't keep away from them. When you meet blonde-headed Campbell, and that smile is cast upon you, you know that behind it is sincerity and a heart as true as gold. He is quiet in manner, but once in action he is all life, as he has proven by his magnificent two year career on the gridiron. Life is yours Chandler, and we know that you will make it more than worth while.

EDGAR GEORGE DAVID, A.B.

Atlanta, Georgia

PI KAPPA PHI

"A thinker, a good fellow, and an athlete—a rare combination."

Football '20-'21-'22-'23; Basketball '21-'22-'23; Captain Freshman Basketball '21; Captain Football '22; Alternate Captain Baseball '23; Secretary and Treasurer "O" '22-'23; President "O" '23-'24; President Boosters Club '23-'24; President Freshman Class '20-'21; President Sophomore Class '21-'22; President Junior Class '22-'23; President Senior Class '23-'24; Business Manager of the Yama crew.

Ed is a man that men admire and the ladies love. He is popular, good-natured, witty, and always wears a smile. He takes life seriously, but in his seriousness there always remains the boy. With him life is worth living anywhere. Ed has been the backbone of our football team for four years, and was captain in '22. He has been the president of our class for four years, an unique thing.

Life holds many gems for you Edgar, and we hope as you travel down the years, that all kinds of success will be yours.

HERBERT ALEXANDER BRYANT, A.B.

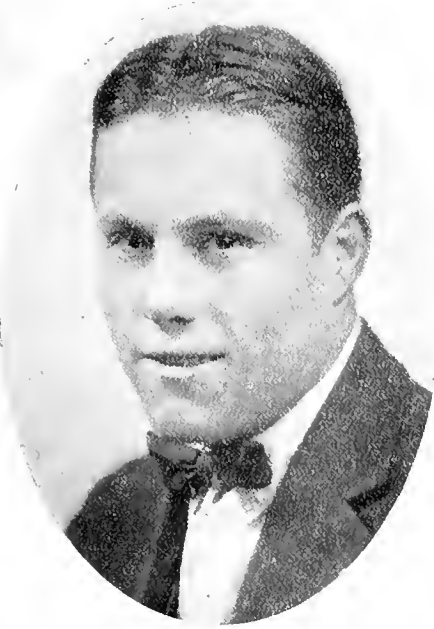

Rock Hill, S. C.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

*"Why worry? It will happen anyway,
And sunshine drives the rain away."*

Baseball '22-'23-'24; Captain Baseball '24; Boxing Team '22-'23; "O" Club; Secretary and Treasurer "O" Club '23-'24.

"Pug" is a boy who pitches in and works, then talks afterwards. He has somewhat of a quiet nature, but when he talks his words are full of action. If you know him, you have indeed found a rare and worthy friend, one that is pure as gold and as true as the stars. By his amiable traits he has worked his personality into the lives of his classmates, and we wish that we had longer to stay in his presence. He is the best baseball catcher yet. He's arsenic when it comes to handling that pill. "Png" if you play the game of life as you have played the popular game baseball, we know that you will in the afterwhile find the end of the rainbow. We wish you the best of luck.

WALTER FRED GORDY, A.B.

Atlanta, Georgia

PI KAPPA PHI

"He was a man, take him all in all, I shall not look upon his like again."

Captain Freshman Football '21; Varsity Football '22-'23; Tennis Team '21; Freshman Basketball '21; Vice-President Boosters Club '23-'24; Vice-President Freshman Class '21; President Junior Class '23.

"Frog" is a stockily built, genial little fellow, not to say the biggest teaser—so the girls say. His brain works as perfectly in class as do his spry feet on the gridiron. Proof of this is his uncanny ability to squeeze through the smallest hole and get loose down the field with that pig-skin. An unique thing about Gordy is that he graduates this year as President of the Junior Class. Although you believe in Co-Education, we have to hand it to you "Frog" that you are a fast worker in many lines. Oh well, Walter always was a lion among them. May your road of life be everlastingly happy. We will watch your career with keenest interest.

WILLIAM DOUGHTRY MALLICOAT, A.B.

Trion, Georgia

"Be yourself, and leave custom to fools that need it."

"Dock" is the boy that said, "All grades over seventy is a waste of energy". We don't know whether he really means this or not, but if he does, he is very wasteful of his energy, sometimes. He is a quiet boy, but he is not a bit domesticated, for it is with frequency that we see him parading up and down Peachtree. We have often wondered if he was trying to sheik the girls, or just walking to pass the time away until a certain very popular show opened.

"Dock" is the familiar little figure sitting in the corner of the lobby early every morning, smiling to himself at some remarks made by the leading members of the "Winter Stove League". We have profited much by having known you, Daugherty, in that you have taught us not to be so inquisitive as to the other fellow's business, but to be more mindful of our own. The class of '24 wishes you much success, "Dock", and that all kinds of happiness will be yours.

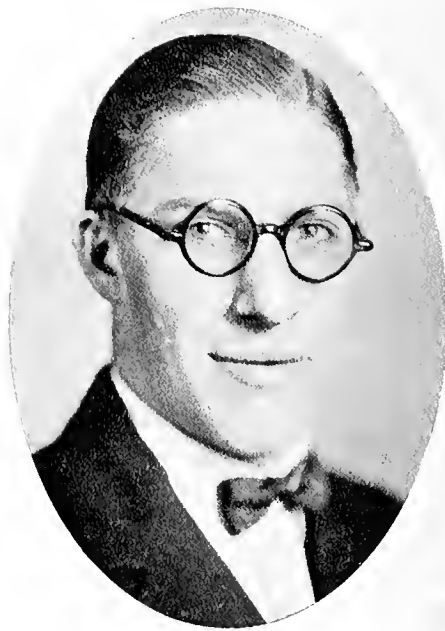

JAMES HENRY HAMILTON, A.B.
Villa Rica, Georgia

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

*"I am monarch of all I survey,
My right there is none to deny."*

"Ham" is that cute little bald-headed man with the innocent face, as it is often expressed by the flattering weaker sex. Ham says he pulled out his hair while studying organic chemistry, but he could not possibly have pulled out so much in those few scattering minutes. Though small, he never hesitates about expressing his opinions, which are usually very decided. Ham is one of those fellows who, when he once sets his mind towards a certain goal, is going to reach it or die in the attempt. The one word, determination, is this little man's motto, and we know that if he keeps up that old fighting spirit it will be hard for Villa Rica to keep him as their stellar physician—that is, after he has established himself.

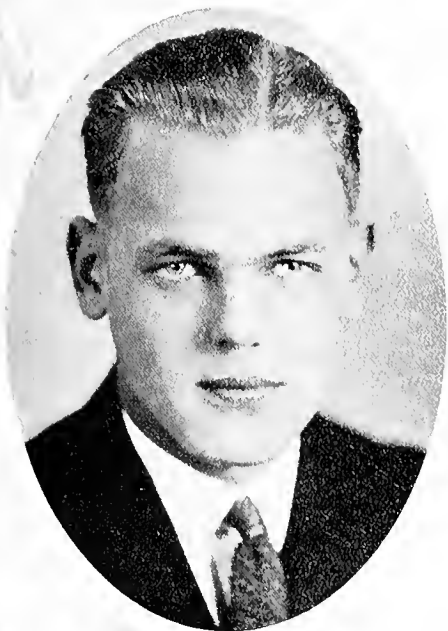

Goodbye and good luck old classmate and friend.

LUTHER THOMAS MANN, A.B.
Dalton, Georgia

*"Happy am I; from care I am free;
Why aren't they all contented like me."*

Mann has been immune from the vain allurements of the fair sex and the gracefulness of the Terpsichorean art. He doesn't cater much to social prestige, but devotes most of his time to studying (?). Luther is of a genial and optimistic disposition, and a fervent believer in his masticating powers. He is contented to take things as they come, without a murmur of rejection or approval. He knows that life runs on whether the state of affairs is positive or negative. He is an unique figure in the class of '24, and it is evident that he will in the future, as he has been in the past, not be contented to be just like other men. Old Boy, your classmates wish you much success in life. Good luck.

PAUL COURTNEY GAERTNER, A.B.

Oglethorpe University, Georgia

*"A kind and gentle heart he hath
To comfort friends and foe."*

LeConte Club; Petrel Staff '21; Instructor,
Biology Lab. '23; Chemistry Lab. Instructor '24;
Mandolin Club '21-'22-'23; Band '21-'22-'23.

Paul loves Oglethorpe so well that his home is near the campus. If he proves to be as good and as faithful a son to his Alma Mater as his dad is a father, then we know that old Oglethorpe will be known the world around. Paul is a student, for ever since he started his course in Science he has worked as one eager for knowledge. His activities were never confined to the classroom, for he handles women with the inborn talent of a genius. He is very gentle and thoughtful, and always has a good word of encouragement for everybody. "Genius is an infinite capacity for taking pains", and because of this quality of exactness which he has, we know that Paul will be victorious in the battle of life.

RALPH AUGUSTUS MARTIN, A.B.

Florence, Alabama

"A little body and a great mind, supported by great resourcefulness."

LeConte Club; Four Square League; Cosmopolitan Club; German Club '22; Chemistry
Lab. Instructor '23-'24.

"Mart", the little black headed chemistry shark comes to us from that industrious state of Alabama. True to his state's spirit, he is graduating in three years. We know the folks back home are just as proud as we are of this little genius. He can work out the Benzine Cycle as if it were an everyday occurrence. We predict that some day he will rank as one of America's foremost chemists.

Stick in there and fight them, Mart, and prove to the world that Oglethorpe spirit. With your little body and magnanimous mind the class of '24 wish you great success, and will watch with the keenest interest your achievements.

WILLIAM COX, A.B.
Gainesville, Georgia

"Quiet in appearance with motives unknown."

"Bill" is in nature somewhat quiet and unassuming. He is a man with funny red hair and the kindest heart that ever happened. He is a man of few words and fewer known thoughts. By his stern looks, broken occasionally by a slow winning smile, one knows that deep down in his heart and mind there lies a noble and constructive character. This neatly dressed boy, Bill, we know will make a success, because we have a sneaking idea that he has a great love urging him on. With his winning personality and his ability to handle competently all Commercial subjects, we predict great happiness for Bill.

VIRGINIA PAIRO, A.B.
Atlanta, Georgia

*"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall,
And most divinely fair."*

Players Club; Girls Hi Club; Co-Ed Representative '21-'22; President Co-Eds '23; Junior Class Historian '23.

Once in the Players Club Virginia was a Russian countess, and now she has adopted that personality as her own. Her grace and dark eyes and exotic air are quite artistic, and so naturally Dr. Routh advises the stage for her. We expect her to be a second Divine Sarah. Virginia is a student as well as an actress, for she is familiar with both Shakespearian comedies and tragedies. As Virginia is romantically inclined we know that after she has parted from our midst her life will be one happy success after another. Well, Virginia, we must leave you now and run in pursuit of the next classmate. Good luck and God bless you.

LUCY PAIRO, A.B.

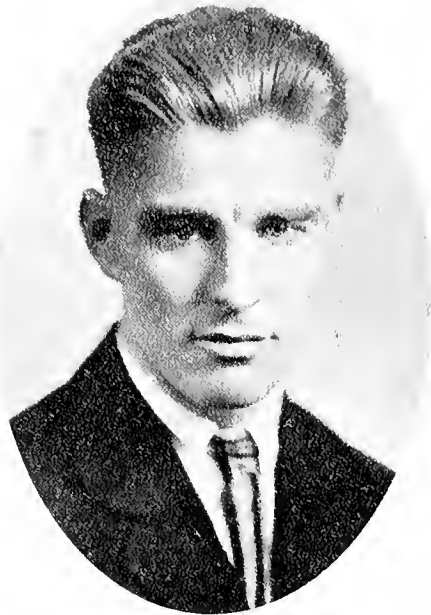

Atlanta, Georgia

PI BETA NU

*"A lovely lady, garmented in light
From her own beauty."*

Players Club; Mandolin Club; Girls Hi Club.

Oh Lucy, why do you bother with all the chemistry in school? Come, find that bottles are for exquisite perfumes and not for acids. Live up to your French name and your seminary training.....'tis no use. Lucy makes an alchemist the hero to her romantic play, to be produced by the Oglethorpe Players, and when one mixes chemistry and love, an explosion will surely follow. When Lucy talks her voice is so smooth and soft that one is reminded of spring, flowers, birds, etc. She is rather romantic, anyway, but she wouldn't admit it for anything. Although she leads somewhat of a dreamy existence, her mind is always well posted on deeper subjects, such as her books. As we part, Lucy, we wish you the best of luck on the old trodden road of make-believe, called Life.

AUGUSTUS OSCAR LUNSFORD, A.B.

Blairsville, Georgia

*When duty whispers low, Thou must,
The youth replies, I can."*

Football '20; Scrub Football '22-'23.

"Swede" is one of those characters that you often hear about, but seldom see. He is a typical Georgian, having all those traits that characterize a born Southerner. His youthful robustness makes his existence overflowing with pep and enthusiasm. In his company you are at home, for he has such an amiable personality. Oscar taught school one year, but on finding that the pupils knew about as much as the teacher, he decided to indulge again in the pursuit of knowledge. How's that, Oscar?

"Swede", we are all better for having known you, and when you leave the gray shadows of Oglethorpes' Gothic walls, may you find as many loyal friends, and may you have as much success as you have held and made at your Alma Mater.

OTIS MAILON JACKSON, A.B.

Atlanta, Georgia

KAPPA ALPHA

*"So many worlds, so much to do,
So little done, such things to be."*

RALPH A. SINCLAIR, A.B.

Norwood, N. C.

PI KAPPA PHI

*"True as the needle to the pole,
Or the diul to the sun."*

Phi Kappa Delta (Honorary Fraternity); President Oglethorpe Players Club '23-'24; Secretary and Treasurer Players Club '22-'23; President Junior Class '22-'23; Instructor Physics '23-'24; Instructor Chemistry '23-'24; Atlanta Journal Staff '22-'23-'24; Sport Editor Petrel '23-'24; Captain Freshman Basketball '24; Editor of The Yamaeraw.

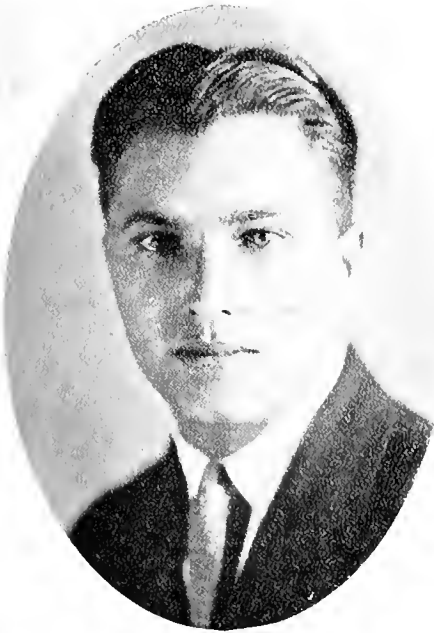

"Jack" is one of those fellows who are somewhat quiet in nature, and very seldom speaks unless he has something important to say. His ability to impress is very elegant. You can reason with him if you have the time to spare, the wit to understand him or the bull to try to bluff him. You always leave, though, with the realization that his reasoning has impressed you. Jackson is a student, and he possesses all those familiar traits that characterize a man. He is the wearer of the Oglethorpe Coat-of-Arms, the highest honor that our Alma Mater can bestow upon her sons. Writing space is too limited to sketch fully and justly the many strong and amiable traits of our fellow classmate, so we'll leave it to the world to find benefit, and appreciate the valuable qualities of this man of the class of '24.

"Scrappy" and "Sinny" are the nick-names belonging to our Editor-in-Chief, the ever smiling young man with the curly blonde hair. He is the kind of fellow everyone likes (even the Co-Eds), that quiet, friendly sort whom you can't get anything against. He comes from the Carolinas, and we understand he's going to settle in our land of opportunity, Atlanta.

"Scrappy" believes in his fun, and says that he'll never get so old but that he can get some kick out of life. Although enjoying life, he occasionally has spells of seriousness which is bound to produce an outgrowth of things good and noble. Behind his veil of smiles is sincerity and the heart of a true friend. We wish him the best of good fortune, and hope that his life will be filled with sunshine and prosperity.

HENRY QUIGG TUCKER, A. B.

"All thing u'll come around to him who will wait."

Track Team; (Javelin '22-'23-'24; Pole Vault '21); Scrub Basketball '22-'23; Scrub Football '23; "O" Club.

Quigg has represented Oglethorpe on the track team for four years. He hurls the Javelin as the Cave Man hurled the Spear in the early Stone Age. Scrubbed on the football team during his last year, and was on the basketball team for three years. Being a scrub he played unhonored, which shows his true love for his Alma Mater.

Quigg is clean cut, quiet, never seeking any honors, sincere, and always ready to help others. That is why we know he will get there. The class knows that Quigg's winning personality, and his lovable nature will always keep him provided with more than one place to hang his hat.

"Mutt", is a tall, lean, muscular man, and a noble warrior on the field of battle. He has the initiative and the strength that all men possess. As a Man he never says quit, but like other men, he has one weakness—a girl. We don't condemn him of this instinctive shortcoming, because brown hair, coral lips, and sparkling eyes have proved to be the undoing of many a man. "Mutt", you have played the football well, it was fine and thrilling to see you fight for the Petrels, and you were greatly admired. As the game of life is just beyond the horizon, we know that by your grit and determination that victory is assured. "To the victor belongs the spoils."

"Red", started chasing the ladies in the productive town of Cedartown in 1903, and has been at their apron strings ever since. His being red headed doesn't make any difference with the henfolks. In fact, the girls call him a "Shriek", when it comes to dancing. "Red" is sincere in his ever undertaking——production is his aim. He is a boy with an amiable character, and is always ready to extend a helping hand to any one less fortunate than he. To strive is to succeed, and may much success be yours.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Cheer Leader '23-'24; President Hoboes' Club.

"Tom" first appeared on the scene in the petit town of Hogansville, and he doesn't care if the world knows it. He is often called Hogansville "Special", an especial example of that vicinity's posterity. He has more pep and enthusiasm than anybody in school. Among the many hearty yelling voices in the grandstands at athletic games, Tom's voice can be heard above them all. He has the Oglethorpe spirit that will never die. He cared not for self glory, but wanted all honors to go to his Alma Mater. His spirit will live on, and his voice will ring through the years, promoting something that is good and noble. Our fellow student and classmate, "Tom", we know that with your fighting spirit and enthusiasm your success is assured.

"Gladys" is the girl of girls, being both a dreamer and a student, which is indeed a rare combination. She is a valuable asset to her Alma Mater, and we are more than proud of her. This little blonde girl has an innate love for literature and anything that is romantic; so no wonder we found her writing a play that was later staged, with herself as the heroine. In life's undertaking, Gladys, the whole world will be your stage, on which we prophesy you to be a prominent character. Our hats are off, and our hearts beat an encore for your happy and dreamy existence.

"Jake" is a boy in spirit, a man in mind. In all sports he is a spirited contender. On the gridiron he is a fighting mechanism, and his educated toe is a great asset to the team. He is a "sheik" with the girls, but there is one thing certain, that nobody can Mar-his-Cell. We have a feeling of affection for this blonde headed youth. He has those qualities that characterize a man, courage, frankness, friendliness, humour and personality. We regret that we cannot associate with "Jake" in the future in the same free, joyous spirit as in the past four years, but we have come to the cross roads. "Jug", is a man of rare attributes. He is loyal, he is patient and he is sincere. Above all he is claimed to be the best dancer in school. His mind is a history book, with all dates of different events correct. "Who was the guy that played short for—last year?" I don't know, ask "Jug". In his answer, he is nearly always correct. "Jug", is somewhat of a little fellow, but he is a man. In leading the squad of '23 he showed skill and rare ability. He was always clear minded, and thought before he acted. In the few years we have known him he has won a place in our hearts. The class of '24 wish you much success, such as a man of your calibre deserves.

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

"The secret of success is constancy to purpose."

Assistant Editor Yamaeraw '24; Assistant Editor Petrel '23-'24; LeConte Club (Honorary Scientific); Pi Kappa Delta (Honorary).

"Ches" first saw the sunshine in the quaint little Georgia town of Doraville. He entered Oglethorpe in 1920 from Norcross High School. The little home town should be proud of "Ches", for he has worked all of his four years in college. During his Junior and Senior years he was Assistant Librarian. He is quiet, conscientious and steady, always willing to perform any kind of task that is requested of him. As to his social life, he has a girl, but we don't know who the lucky "machen" can be. He is a mystic when it comes to courting.

"Ches", you hold a large place in the hearts of your classmates and of all the students of your Alma Mater. With your constancy of purpose and your ability to work we hope that your career will be a trial of glory.

FINCH THOMAS SCRUGGS, JR., A.B.

Orlando, Florida

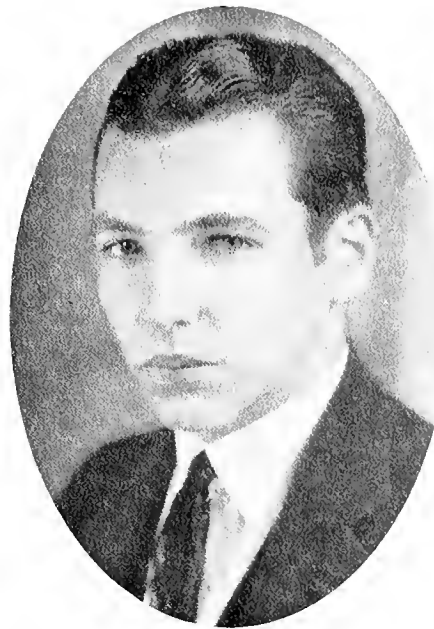

PI KAPPA PHI

*"Tis this that everyone would say,
He's a jolly good fellow in every way."*

Cheer Leader '22; Business Manager Petrel '23.

"Finchey" hails from the land of sunshine and alligators. Being from the sunny state of Florida must be why he is so fair in the eyes of the ladies. He is fat and good natured, and is always hanging around the Co-op when not studying. His main hobby is eating, but we do not hold that against him, for the simple reason that we have Paul's interest at heart, and do not want to see him without a job.

"Finchey" has one of the most likable personalities we know of anywhere. You simply cannot associate with him and not be affected by his hypnotic character. His smile and his little black mustache are just captivating. Being courteous, friendly, and sincere, Scruggs, we know that you are going to succeed, and the class will follow your success with the greatest interest.

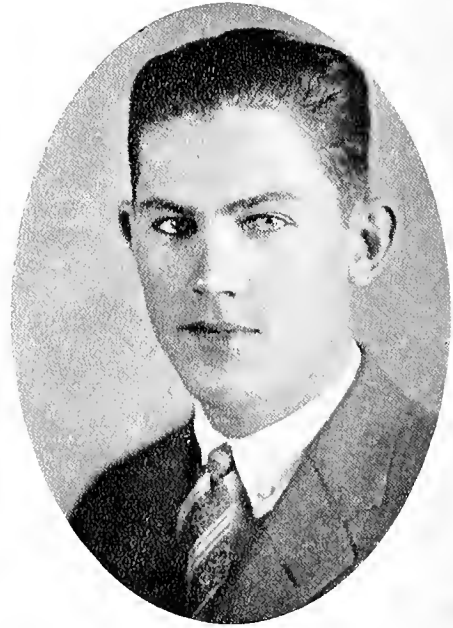

FRED MALONE BOSWELL, A.B.

"When silence speaks for Love, she has much to say."

Scrub Football '20-'21.

"Crush" is one of those old faithful Commerce sharks. He can read Government Industrial Reports the way the rest of us can read True Confessions. Roger Babson is his favorite author. Now this young man, "Crush", usually turns to the world a quizzical smile which makes the Sphinx look transparent by comparison. But he probably has more good ideas about life on this planet, so we are going to watch him to see just how he applies these ideas, when he has stepped over that well-known threshold which comes about the time one gets his "Dip." "Crush", we are expecting big things from you, and we want to wish you the best of luck.

"Strut" has traveled far and wide. He came to us from Hampden Sidney. Having made his letter in football there, he was ineligible to enter athletics here at Oglethorpe.

He is a boy that never worried, never annoyed, always cheerful and on good terms with everybody.

When the coming of years shall make present associations but memories of the past, we will think of "Strut", and know that if fate has been just, our friend will have fallen heir to all the reward and happiness that is due to a whole-hearted and square man.

"A true friend is forever a friend."

"Al" is not easy to get on to, but when you're once on, you don't feel a bit like getting off.

The Florida climate certainly grows some rare personalities. There may be other "Al's", but there isn't another "Al G". He's rather quiet—his favorite expression being a smile—but he seems to be peering into the dark mysteries of your soul when he glances at your countenance.

We've heard that unobtrusive "Al" can keep up a good line when he is in the cozy confines of a congenial bull-session. That's so. And let no one question his scholastic ability, because we have it from a reliable source that he always stays well up on his books.

Best wishes to you, "Al"; may you always prosper, and never lose that smile.

To describe "Red" is to picture the fighting spirit of Oglethorpe. He has more fight per cubic inch than anyone we know of. Whether on the track field, the gridiron, or on the diamond, "Red" is in the hottest part of the field and fighting like a tiger. While Ivey has won more medals than Von Hindenburg, he has not neglected the intellectual phase of his college life. He is a good student in Chemistry, and what he does not know of the inside workings of a cat has not yet been discovered. And now, as Ivey carries the same old fighting spirit out into the great battle of life, we feel confident he will continue to conquer all before him.

"Look, then, into thine heart, and write."

Players Club; Secretary and Treasurer Red Headed Club '22-'23; Mandolin Club; Basketball '23-'24; Assistant Librarian '22-'23-'24; Girls High Club.

We wish we could erect a monument to commemorate the zeal and ardor and honest-for-sure toil of Mattie White. She is ever ready, ever busy, and she is one of the best reasons we can think of for excessive attendance at the Library when she is on duty. White has won herself an envious nickname that has clung to her, because there is a reason. She is "Sunshine". Think of being "Sunshine" when a Freshman, and remaining "Sunshine" as a Senior. All around she is the essence of sweetness, exquisiteness and adorability. We know that her labours will continue to be rewarded and appreciated. Where there is sunshine there is progress.

"Cris" is a dear. We have all come to love and appreciate her, sober or effervescent as you would. She is not merely a dreamer, but an achiever of truth and beauty. It is a sincere individuality which directs that facile pen and causes her to write poetry as easily as we humdrum mortals speak. Here is a genius that has crept upon us unannounced. A general goodfellow she is, who will find life overflowing with goodness and beauty because of the abundance of these same qualities which she puts into it.

Basketball '22-'23-'24; Business Manager Basketball '24; Girls' High Club; Mandolin Club; Players Club.

"Liz" has endeared herself to everyone at Oglethorpe, for she has become synonymous with the term good sport. She thoroughly enjoys life, and being good-natured as she is, dispels the gloom wherever she may roam. Speech is silver; "Liz" is the champion lawyer among the co-eds, and many times has her logical, common sense oratory succeeded for their cause. She is the girls' politician, and "Leave it to Liz" has become a slogan that has good results. Full of fun, life, joy, and true sportsmanship, "Liz" and her ready wit will travel merrily down that old road of life. The class of '24, "Liz" wish you the best of luck.

"Few things are impossible to diligence and skill"

Stage Manager Players Club '22-'23; Assistant Editor Petrel '23-'24; Business Manager Oglethorpe Orchestra-Glee Club '22-'23-'24; Boars' Head (Honorary).

Lawrence is going to amount to something some day. If you don't think so, just ask him. But along with his pride there is a general spirit of sincerity that appeals to all.

In his Sophomore year at Oglethorpe he was awarded the Coat-of-Arms sweater, after having made the highest record ever attained here for five successive terms. He has had a prominent part in the work of the Petrel Staff, the Oglethorpe Players, and the Oglethorpe Orchestra-Glee Club. He wrote a romantic comedy, "Billing and Coueing", which was produced at the Atlanta Theatre by the Oglethorpe Players, the author taking the leading role.

"Business Manager" is his favorite job, and he surely gets things done.

Here's success to you, Lawrence G.

DELTA SIGMA PHI

"If music be the food of love, play on."

Solo Pianist; Oglethorpe Orchestra '21-'22-'23; Assistant Librarian '22-'23; Assistant Physics Laboratory '22.

Robert hails from that classic city of Gainesville, or should we say Brenau College Conservatory, where no doubt he developed those Paderewski fingers, and acquired perhaps a certain affinity for the fairer sex.

As Solo Pianist with the Oglethorpe Orchestra, his playing has won him an enviable reputation. He plays the big things in a big way. His brilliant playing of the Polonaise in A-flat will give you some new ideas. They tell us, though, that he got into the habit of making scholastic records in Gainesville Hi, and incidentally he never got out of this habit at Oglethorpe. Pfefferkorn seems undecided as to what field of endeavor his versatile abilities shall favour, but should he make up his mind to follow in the footsteps of Paderewski, or decide to invade Wall Street, we are confident that nothing but success awaits him.

JAMES MERIWETHER McMEKIN, A.B.

Washington, Georgia

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

"Good sense which only is the gift of Heaven."

Scrub Baseball '21; Track '22-'23; Phi Kappa Delta (Honorary Fraternity).

"Mac" comes from the wilds of Wilkes County, and this level headed, serious minded lad is a fair representative of Washington Hi.

James is rather quiet in a crowd, but as one girl expressed it, "when you get him alone, you'd be surprised!" When he first started going to classes as a freshman, he found it easier to talk than to listen, but under the capable tutelage of Mrs. Libby he lost that habit and from then on he has worked quietly, as one who has his face set toward a goal and goes in spite of difficulties.

The combination of "Irish wit" and quiet determination that "Mac" possesses will carry him victorious through life, and we predict that, if he doesn't fall in love, the long road of life will be paved with much success.

HOWARD FRANK WHITEHEAD, A.B.

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

"There is delight in singing, but none hear, beside the singer."

Football '20-'21-'22-'23; Assistant Manager Baseball '21-'22; Manager Baseball '23; "O" Club.

"Peck", first smiled back in the early twentieth century, the fortunate spot of the sad occasion, being Commerce, Ga. His adopted uncle "Joe", raised him in the right way, and taught him to be serious minded, so that is why he now dwells in the stately halls of Oglethorpe. He is red-headed, and like all sons of Commerce, full of humor and wit. The many freckles on his face are always broadened because of smiles. At night, under a full Georgia moon, a gang of boys fill the air with Southern melodies, and above them all you can hear the voice of "Peck."

"Peck" is a conscientious fellow, and it is safe to say that his future career will be a successful one.

HARRY EUGENE TEASLEY, A.B.
Hartwell, Georgia

PI KAPPA PHI

*"The true knight of learning, the world holds him dear—
Love bless him, joy crown him, God speed his career."*

"Father" is everything else but what his nickname exemplifies. In his endeavors to get the right kind of an education, he got a bad start by going two years to Tech, but learned enough there to realize his mistake, and so came to Oglethorpe. His manner is gentle, and he has modest ways, but his word is his law. In a crowd he is a man of few words, but his actions prove to be mightier than his words. "Preacher's" hobby is the study of Psychology of the human being; he can read you like a book.

To understand him one must know him well, but once you gain his confidence, he will be a friend under all circumstances. Being a conscientious fellow we're assured of his success. Good luck, Preacher.

DOROTHY ELIZABETH FOSTER, A.B.
Atlanta, Georgia

ZETA TAU

"She looks like a goddess, and acts like a queen."

Member of Players Club.

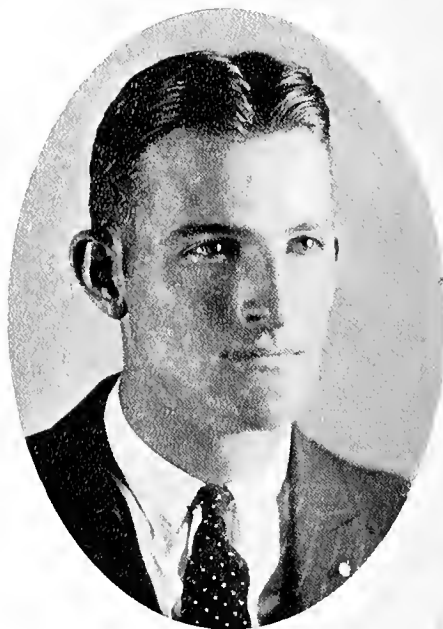

This sister of Oglethorpe is very serious and ambitious, but like all members of the weaker sex she is romantic, as the moon effects her greatly. She is not only a queen off stage, but she was one on the stage, when she appeared as queen in the Egyptian play presented last spring by the Oglethorpe Players. She is sincere and capable in everything that she undertakes. We've been informed that she intends to teach school next year if nothing (?) happens between now and then. By her attractive and magnetic personality, she has won the hearts of the students of her Alma Mater, and we know these valuable traits will go a long way in promoting her happiness and success. The class of '24 wishes to say goodbye and God bless you, Miss Foster.

TINSLEY RICHARD GAINES, A.B.
Elberton, Georgia

*"Make the coming hours o'erflow with joy,
And pleasure drown the brim."*

"Bottle" is the nick-name of this tall, robust, jolly, and rather handsome boy, who hails from the city of Elberton. His nickname is not due to any adherence to the hip-pocket flask. When he first made his appearance at Oglethorpe titles were becoming scarce, and "Bottle" was the only suitable title that could be found. He is very fond of dogs, and his hobby is hunting—hunting is right, because we never know whether he killed anything or not. As for apples, he'd run a mile any night. He is a jolly sort of a fellow, and when he greets you with a "Hello, old scout", a genuine broad smile spreads over his face, and you know that he is a friend. He combines youth and vitality with seriousness and deep thinking, and when one can do this, life holds much for him. So "Bottle", we wish you much success, and that all the joys of life will be yours.

THOMAS AUGUSTUS BARTENFELD, A.B.
Dalton, Georgia

*"Anything that is worth doing at all
Is worth doing with all your might."*

Football '20-'21-'22-'23; Players Club; Masonic Club.

Determination is the key note of "Rube's" character, and when he once decides to do a thing it is difficult to change his mind. For four years he has served his Alma Mater on the gridiron, and his opponents have never found a minute during his four seasons of service in the line, when they could say that he was not a hard man to stop. We know that he will carry that old fighting spirit into the battle of life, and that he will be hard to stop at anything that he starts.

But alas! We must tell of one contest in which he lost—his heart. Yet he seems happier now than before he lost it, and when we consider where it is we don't pity him a bit. Go to it "Rube", life's before you.

CHARLES ELLIOTT FERGUSON, A.B.

Thomasville, Georgia

DELTA SIGMA PHI

"Genius does what it must, talent does what it can."

Scrub Baseball, '21-'22

"Fergie" is a genius when it comes to the study of Commerce. It is a trait born in him, and not acquired by concentrated effort. He can, while reposing comfortably in a large arm chair in the great hall with a stogie in the corner of his mouth, expound some philosophy on baseball that would make Ty Cobb sit up and blink his eyes in amazement. He's a wonder in Commerce. "Fergie", with your personality you have overcome many obstacles, and have made everlasting friends. Your future is before you, and as you have a fair knowledge of the ways of the world we predict that you will lead a life of happiness and much success.

Junior Class History

Quality not quantity makes a city or a nation great. The present Junior class is a quality class; of one hundred and ten freshmen only thirty-two remain, but twenty-four of these participate in recognized student activities.

Eight of our class are letter men in football, seven in baseball, and two in track. Roberts holds the S. I. A. A. Tucker holds the state record for the pole vault and the high jump.

Have you ever heard of this combination before? The same man being chosen in a Who's Who election as the best athlete, the most popular, and the most modest. This unique honor was conferred upon Adrian Maurer. "A fine football player, but a finer man," said Ed. Danforth, sporting editor of the Atlanta Georgian.

The Junior class does not confine itself to athletics; four members of this class took leading parts in the Spring production of the Oglethorpe Players Club.

The success of the Petrel is largely due to the Junior class, as both the editor and business manager were juniors. Under the efficient editorship of Pen Robertson, the Petrel issued a twenty-page paper for the furtherance of the Oglethorpe Memorial Campaign.

Eighteen members of the Junior class are paying their own expenses at college. These men, who number represents more than half of the class, are employed in positions ranging from waiters at the university to correspondents of Atlanta papers.

It is the hope of the Junior class, that in spite of its small number it may continue, as a senior class, to take its part in the work that makes a college year a successful one.

Sophomore Class History

DO WE remember when we were freshmen? Of course we could not easily forget it in this brief length of time, and so firmly was the fact impressed upon us that we were freshmen that it will remain vivid in our minds for many years to come.

It was in September 1922, that our class of eighty members first gazed upon the gray buildings of Gothic architecture of Oglethorpe. We had assembled from North, South, East and West, but this mattered not—we were freshmen and might just as well have come from the Emerald Isles. The Sophomores lost little in impressing our freshness upon us.

After furnishing the Sophomores two weeks of rare entertainment we began to realize the reason for our being in college, so we began the age-old battle of education against ignorance.

While we were not the largest freshman class to enter Oglethorpe we were perhaps one of the liveliest. We were soon represented in nearly every phase of college activity, furnishing three members each to the baseball and football teams, and having two men who won the Tennis championship for the '23 season. We were also well represented in the orchestra and on the debating team.

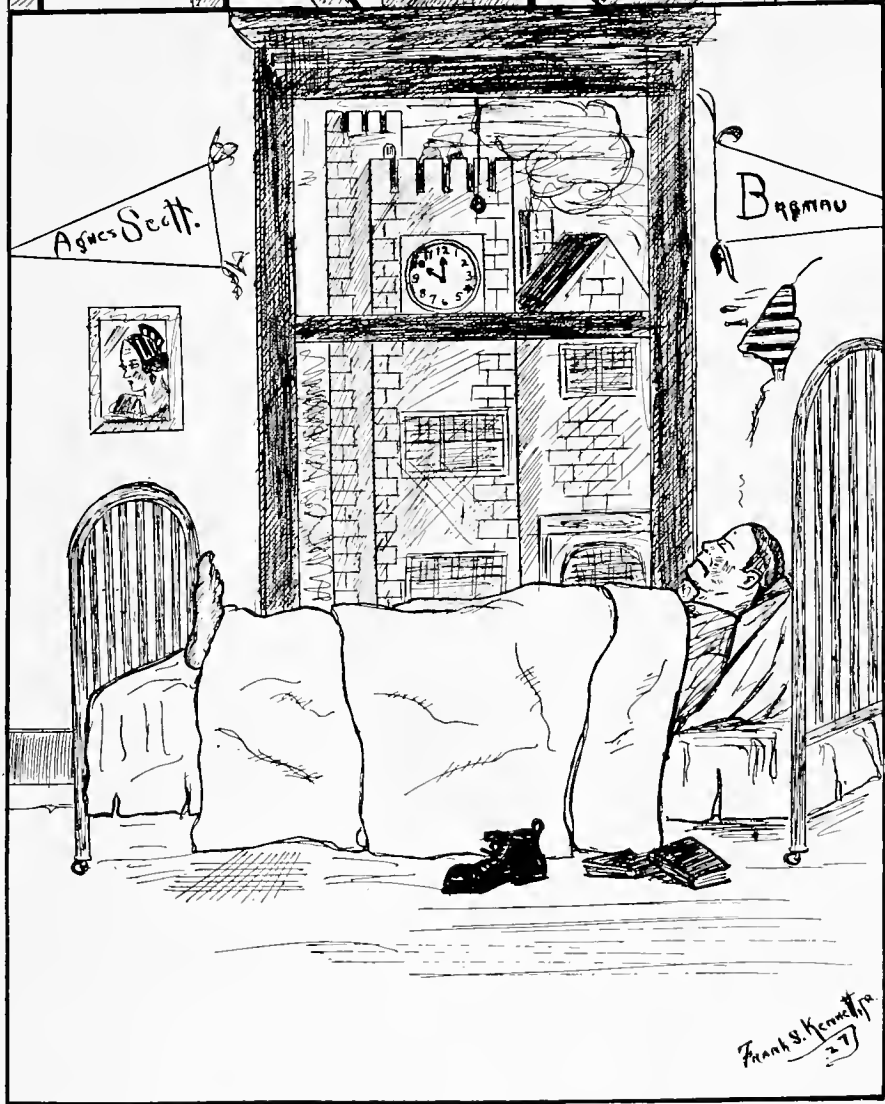

When we returned as sophomores, we found that the freshmen outnumbered us three to one. As dignified Sophomores, we naturally felt that we should exercise some authority over our lower classmen, remembering our treatment at the hands of the Sophomores the previous year. However, when we attempted to exercise this authority, the "battle of the century" ensued, the results of which are too well known to need repeating; and as you know, twice told tales are uninteresting.

It would be a strange phenomenon, indeed, if some class historian should fail to mention that his class was the best in school. We do not claim this distinction for the class of '26, but we do claim that this class has always exemplified the best side of the Oglethorpe spirit—that side which stands for higher and better ideals.

—B. H. VINCENT, Sophomore Class Historian.

Freshman Class History

THE school year of 1923-'24 opened its doors and extended a hearty welcome to the largest Freshman class in the history of Oglethorpe University, the number of freshies being one hundred and thirty-six. Although the largest, it was also the freshest. On entering the stately halls of Oglethorpe our hearts sank, because thinking we knew it all, we found we knew nothing.

Upon finding that we were so green and ignorant it was then only natural that we settle down in search of knowledge. Starting on this road of life we were first greeted and given a touching welcome by our stern superiors, the Sophomores. They led us to the bar of justice, where we were given our instructions, as well as our punishment.

Our first meeting was held in Lupton Hall in October. There we elected class officers, who were Alton Redfern, Pres.; Clarence West, Vice-Pres., and Elizabeth Hope, Secretary and Treasurer. Unfortunately we lost both our President and Vice-President, so were forced to elect new officers. The newly elected officers were Edward Miles, President; Kenneth Campbell, Vice-Pres. We hope and believe however, that our first officers will rejoin us next year.

On October the annual minstrel of the freshies was put over, with Jake Semon and Charley Barber starring. No egotism, but it must have been exceptionally good, because the Sophomores, along with the faculty, agreed that it was a delightful performance, showing diligent study and work on the part of those performing.

At Oglethorpe the Freshmen share an equal part of the glory in one department, athletics. Justus, Carroll, Albaugh, Campbell, and Hardin won their letter in football. O'Dwyer, Redfern, Slayton, Chestnut, and Cousins ably presented our class on the scrub team. Misses Leila Barden, Theodosia Beckham, Imogene Camp, and Sarah Magill represented the freshmen on the co-ed basketball team. Rumor has it that the freshmen will likewise be well represented in baseball and track.

In the South's best college orchestra are found Freshmen Barber, Semon, Wylie, Thompson, Drummer, Gibson, and Holloway. The freshmen will also supply the wants and wishes of the sophomores by sending many natural but inexperienced dramatic stars to the Players Club.

It did not take us long to love our Alma Mater, and to gain the true Oglethorpe spirit. We admit that we knew very little and were very green when we matriculated, but under the influential hand and unerring eye of the wise Sophs, we are now proud to say that we are all "set for the races" for the ensuing year.

Our Alma Mater

*Hail to thee, our Alma Mater
Fair and exalted thy name shall be!
Lo, thy sons and daughters praise thee,
Hail, all HAIL TO Oglethorpe!*

*Children, we, of noble mothers,
Loyal and faithful in serving thee;
Sharers of thy fame and glory,
Hail, all HAIL TO Oglethorpe!*

*Dear and good the days thou gavest,
Under the Old Gold and Black with thee,
Full of all life's deepest lessons,
Hail, all HAIL TO Oglethorpe!*

*Thy sweet memory shall follow,
Gently to bless us forever more,
In our lives thou livest ever,
Alma Mater, Oglethorpe!*

The Coaches

JIM ROBERTSON

Coach Robertson came to the Petrels from Dartmouth College, where he had been a star football player for several years. He had had one year of experience as an assistant coach at his Alma Mater. He turned out to be the most popular coach, as a whole, to guide the destinies of the Petrels, up to date. Not only did Coach Jim know the game as well as any of them, but he stood for the right sort of thing. He instilled into his men a fine fighting spirit, and coupled this fighting spirit with a spirit of sportsmanlike play. His team was taught to fight hard, but to play the game like men. His season was a successful one, and it could certainly be expected since he instructed the men in such tactics. With Coach Robertson back as head coach, the Oglethorpe team has every reason to expect better results next fall.

TOD BROWNING

As assistant to Coach Robertson, Tod rendered the same fine sort of service that characterized his first year here. He instructed the linesmen in the fine points of the game, and it was a well coached line that was representing the Petrels in the majority of the games. It was Browning's second year as assistant coach and his work was of the finest type.

RICH MARTIN

Manager

The job of chasing loose pigskins, rounding up head-gears, and all the other odds and ends that go with the managing a football team is no small task, and the managing of a college grid team deserves more credit than is ordinarily given to such a personage. Rich Martin proved to be a very efficient manager during the past season, and he handled the job well. Rich stuck by his men through the year and accorded them every favor that he could render. Much deserves to be said to his credit.

CAPTAIN "JUG" BROWN

Right End

"Jug" Brown led the best team that Oglethorpe University ever put on the gridiron. It is safe to say this about the team of 1923. "Jug" Brown's reward was the reward of a man who remained faithful. The leader of last year's team served three years as a lowly scrub before he finally came into his own and reaped the benefit of the man who never quits. Few men at Oglethorpe ever dreamed that some day the scrappy little scrub end would ever have the honor of captaining the varsity team. Often it is the case, that a man of fighting disposition and not so much of the brilliant in his makeup makes the best leader. "Jug" was a good, steady player, who never was particularly a star, but who never played a bad game. But his claim to fame in the annals of Oglethorpe's football history lies in the fact that he possessed the disposition to set a good example for his men. Brown led, and he led well. Our hats are off to the doughty captain of 1923.

CAPTAIN-ELECT ADRIAN MAURER

Half Back

The shining light of the past two seasons is the honor that goes to Maurer. Wherever Oglethorpe's Stormy Petrels played throughout the season the name of Maurer was on the tongues of the fans weeks in advance. Every team was watching him, and he was a marked man every time he stepped on the field. Be that as it may, Adrian was a star in practically every game. Maurer coupled the ability of a star with the heart of a fighter. Had it not been for his courageous heart, Adrian Maurer could never have gone through such a season in the brilliant style in which he did. His individual performance in the Mercer game will ever live in the minds of those who saw the battle as one of the greatest pieces of work ever seen on a football field. A star, yet modest in the extreme with a fine spirit and natural love for the game, it was but just that Maurer should lead the Petrels in 1924. Luck to you old boy.

EDGAR DAVID

Halfback and End

Ed David was the man in the pinch in 1923. Four years this fine player has been a member of the varsity team. He was one time a captain and a good one. It was said of him by his coach at the close of his year as captain of the Petrels that no finer leader ever graced a southern gridiron than Ed David. Oglethorpe men have come to know him as that kind of a man. For three years Ed played end and starred in that position. Then his fourth year the new men began to crowd him for the flank job, and Ed was shifted to the backfield just in time to play a brilliant game against the Georgia Bulldogs. He suffered some from injuries through the season, but he got in practically all of the games, and played the same consistent brand of ball that has marked his work at Oglethorpe. He finished the year playing fullback, in the final game. David did much to make Oglethorpe known in the athletic world. We need more like him.

RUBE BARTENFELD

Tackle

The Rube is another of these four year men. His first two years in college he played center, and the last two he was seen at tackle. Rube was a fighter and a good player. He went into the Tech game, the first battle of the season, and played nearly half of the fray without having been in a single scrimmage in the practice season. This sort of thing characterized Bartenfeld's play the whole four years. He was for Oglethorpe first, and the good of his team was always uppermost in his thoughts.

CANDLER CAMPBELL

Guard

Candler is another man who has played his last game for the Petrels. He served the team in the capacity of guard his last two years on the squad. His first two seasons he tried out for end. His weight and ruggedness caused the coaches to move him in to the center of the line. He was the fastest guard on the team, and this speed was one of the outstanding points of his play. He could go down under punts with the best of them, and he was a ferocious open field tackler. Injuries handicapped him in many games, but one could never tell it from the way he played the game.

KENNETH CAMPBELL

Quarterback

"Nutty" is a brother of Candler, and, from the beginning he has made, it would seem that he will uphold the family name satisfactorily for the next three years. This little back was a freshman who had many obstacles to remove before he found his varsity place. A varsity quarter and an older head at the game kept him off the varsity for the first part of the year. His gameness and knack for directing the team strategically finally won out. He got many hard knocks but always came up and, incidentally, he played a most prominent part in the success of the team.

CLAY CARROL

Left End

Carrol is another freshman who made the team in his initial year. He exhibited good form in the early season practices, but did not have sufficient experience to warrant starting him in the varsity games. It did not take him long to get this training, and once he got started in a battle he justified the confidence the coaches placed in him. He gives promise of being a very valuable man in the future.

LISTON ALBAUGH

Halfback

"Blondie" started the Tech game in the role of field general. The injuries received in this game put him out for a couple of weeks, and when he came back he was shifted to halfback. He was a fast, shifty runner, and a fine defensive back. He proved very valuable on many occasions and since last year was his first as a member of the team he has some time to play yet. More will be heard of his work in the future.

WENDELL CROWE

End

Crowe was one of the most valuable linemen on the varsity squad last season. He had the ability to play guard, tackle, and end. It was in this latter position that he saw the larger part of service, and opposing backs found it hard to get around his flank. Crowe has always been a hard fighter and he has his heart in the battle, a factor which counts much on the football field. He has another year, and it should be his best season.

CHARLIE CORLESS

Tackle

This old boy was one of the most rugged and dependable linemen on the squad. Serving his second year on the team he met the charges of the opposition with a stubborn front. He was also adept at making holes in the opposing line. He still has a lot of service in his rugged frame, and the Petrels are fortunate to have a call on his services for the next two years.

WALTER GORDY

Halfback

It took Frog Gordy three years to arrive at his real form, but when he did finally find himself he arrived with a bang. Walt was second only to Maurer in point of brilliancy during the season. He gained more ground than any other back, with the exception of Maurer, and yet in spite of this ability to tear off the yardage, "Frog" has never made a touchdown for Oglethorpe. He could rip the line and skirt the ends with equal cleverness. He had few peers among southern halfbacks. Here is hoping that you make that touchdown in 1924, "Frog". Gordy is alternate-captain for the season of '24.

MILLER HAMRICK

Guard

When "Gus" Hamrick came to Oglethorpe he had never had on a football uniform, but he had the willingness to learn. This fact, coupled with his physical power, soon made him a place on the varsity squad. He is a letter man of two years standing. Always a hard, clean fighter, Miller has been a credit to the Petrels, and his work at guard has at times bordered on the brilliant. He is the steady kind of player who never causes the coaches any worry.

BOB KILGORE*

Fullback

If Bob Kilgore had played in no other game than the Mercer encounter he would have aided the Oglethorpe season materially. For the outcome of the Mercer game meant largely success or failure of the season, and Bob added the extra point after Maurer's touchdown that meant victory. With the score a tie and only a few minutes left to play, Kilgore put the ball squarely through the uprights, and Oglethorpe won the most coveted game of the year. Bob could be relied upon for the few yards needed for a first down, and his work at passing, kicking, and running were fine all year.

*Picture Unobtainable.

RAYMOND STEPHENS

Center

Three years a varsity backfield man and the fourth year the first string center of the squad, is the record of "Mutt" Stephens. When Clay Parrish was injured the Petrels were left in a bad fix for a pivot man, and after looking the squad over, the best prospect Coach Robertson could find was "Mutt". He went from the backfield to center, and soon accustomed himself to the job, and starred there the rest of the season. He saved the day for the Petrels, and Oglethorpe will miss old "Mutt". He has played his last game with credit.

DEWEY JUSTUS

Tackle

A third first year man, to make the varsity last fall was Dewey Justus. He jumped into a regular position at tackle with the first game and was never ousted the rest of the year. He is a natural football player, and if he keeps up his work in the next three years as he started in his freshman season he will be getting serious consideration for some of the all-southern picks.

TOM PORTER

Guard

"Truck Horse" Porter was probably the outstanding guard of the team last year. Living up to the name given him, he proved to be one of the hardest workers on the team, and there was never a time in the season that Porter was not ready for battle. He is a tough bird to handle, and opposing linesmen found it very hard to do anything with this piece of pig iron. It was his second year on the team, and he has one more left. A valuable member of the team was Porter, and he ought to enjoy another good season next fall.

MARVIN NIX

End

Nix gained the reputation of being the hardest tackler on the entire squad last fall, and he never failed to live up to the rep. He was the man who caused the fatal fumble by a Tech back in the first game of the season. Nix is big and strong, and combined with these natural powers he had plenty of speed. He suffered an injury late in the season and was kept out of several of the late games. He never failed to star while he was in the battle.

FRED ROBERTS

Tackle

"Tiny", as he will ever be known, found himself in his third year on the team, and it may safely be said, that Roberts played his best game last fall. With a wonderful natural physique he had only lacked a fighting spirit. Coach Robertson seemed to be able to put that spirit in him, and Tiny made it hard on the men opposite him. The improvement in "Tiny's" play aided the team greatly.

JOHN MORRIS

Quarterback

The punter de luxe of the Oglethorpe team is another of these four year men. "Jake" was once more the best kicker on the team, and the work of booting the old pigskin was the bright spot of his play. Few punters in the South had anything on "Jake", and he used his ability to kick to the best advantage. Morris proved a versatile football player in his four years in college, and he put in many a good play for the Petrels.

CARLTON IVEY

Half Back

The fiery spirit of "Red" Ivey has always been an inspiration to the team. No player on the squad ever fought with a finer spirit than Red. Always he played the game like a gentleman, and at the same time, no man ever fought harder for the success of his Alma Mater. His speed on the gridiron served him in good stead, and what he lacked in weight, he made up for in speed and other qualities.

GEORGE HARDIN

Guard

"Caruso" is another one of these fellows who did not have any surplus weight about him, but he could fight with the best of them. Although, he weighed but slightly over 150 pounds, he was one of the best guards on the squad, and his work in breaking through the opposing line was good all the season. He was hard to move on the defense, and altogether, he played a most creditable game throughout the season.

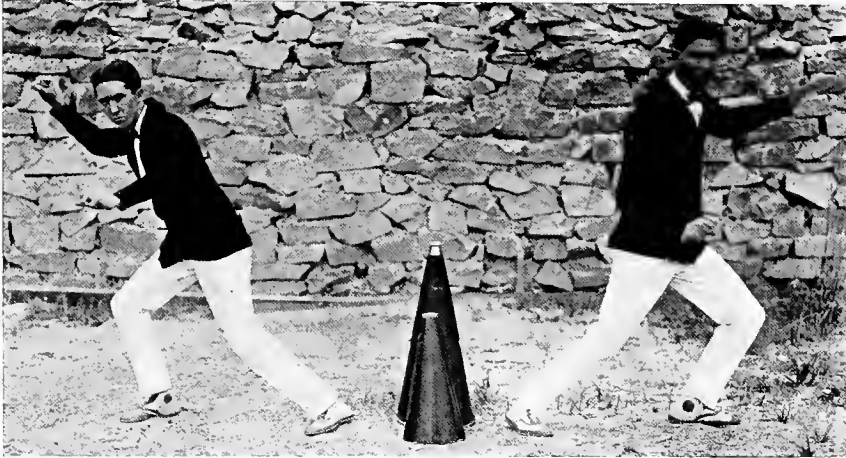

CLYDE WALLACE

Fullback

Wallace suffered a good bit during the season because of injuries to his legs. But he got into enough battles to do the Petrels lots of good. He is a hard runner, and seldom failed to gain over the line. He was also one of the best defensive backs on the team and could kick and pass effectively. He showed marked improvement over the form of the preceding year, and a like improvement next fall would make him one of the stars of the season.

Football Season Review

The beginning of the 1923 season takes us back to the hot, sultry September afternoons, when Coach Jim Robertson and his band of candidates labored under the broiling sun of an Indian summer to whip the players into shape for the opening day tilt with the famous Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets. Coach Jim was new to the men. He had come down from Dartmouth and had taken over the reigns to put the Petrels on the football map in a mere positive way than an Oglethorpe team had ever been put there before. Those hot afternoons were days of real toil and suffering for the athletes who had not been in the best of condition through the summer months. The result of it all was not apparent until later in the season when the fine leadership of Coach Jim and the hard work in the early fall began to show up in the play of the Oglethorpe team.

The Petrels invaded Grant field on September 29. As had been the custom in all preceding games with Tech, the Tornado scored the first touchdown. The score came in the first quarter, and it looked like a repetition of past years, a Tech win by a substantial margin. But immediately following this first Tech score, the situation began to change. The Petrels got possession of the ball and began a march that put the ball on Tech's 30 yard line. Here the Oglethorpe team pulled a triple pass, a trick play devised for just such a situation, and with Adrian Maurer carrying the ball the Petrels put it over, and Oglethorpe was only one point behind the Jackets. Oglethorpe failed to make the extra point after the touchdown and the Petrels were still trailing by a scant margin.

But the superior power of the Tech machine was not to be denied, and ere the half, ended they had pushed over another touchdown and were leading the Gold and Black warriors at the turn by a one point margin. In the second half Tech scored twice more and the game ended at 28 to 13.

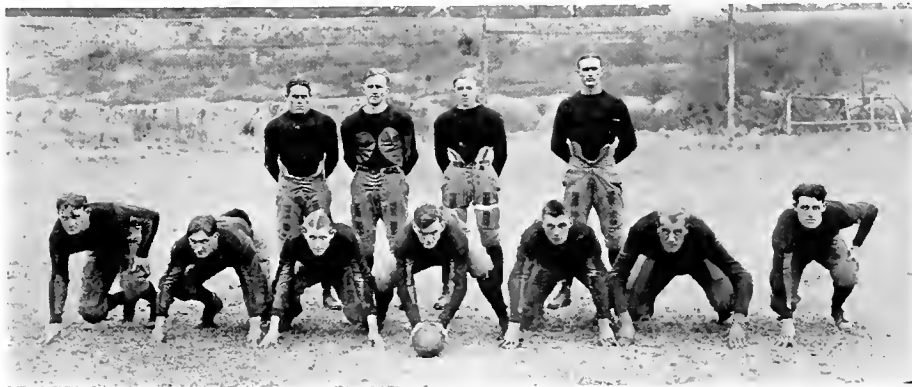

The next Saturday the Petrels journeyed to the Classic city of Athens where they met the Georgia team. The Bulldogs proved to be as strong as ever, and the Oglethorpe team fell before the second of the state's great football teams. Oglethorpe did not put up the same brand against Georgia that she showed against Tech, and this lapse in play was attributed partly to the injuries of the preceding game. Only once during the game did the Gold and Black warriors show any signs of really playing the game. In the third quarter, Ed David bucked over a touchdown after the Oglethorpe team had made a nice march down the field. After this the Petrels returned to their state of coma and spent the rest of the game without molesting the wearers of the Red and Black. Maurer was watched so closely that he did not have a chance to get a nice gain through the entire game. Ed David, shifted from end to a halfback place in the line-up, was the star of the battle from an Oglethorpe viewpoint, and Big John Fletcher was the Georgia luminary.

The next week-end was an off day for the Oglethorpe hand, and it was hoped that Kilgore and others would recover from injuries sufficiently to get into that day's game.

The "Praying Colonels" of Centre College handed the Petrels the first stunning defeat of the year. The trip to Danville proved fatal, and much to the disappointment and surprise of the Oglethorpe supporters, the Colonels ran up 29 points while the Robertson team was unable to score a point. Only once did the Petrels carry a threat, and that was when the flashy Maurer got away for a 30 yard gain on an end run. Incidentally, the Petrels suffered materially, by virtue of injuries, in the Centre game.

Oglethorpe's first home game of the season was staged the next Saturday on Grant field, the lair of the Tech teams. The Purple Tiger from Sewanee was the opponent for the occasion and the Petrels entered this game with a record of thirteen straight defeats behind them. The city was keyed up for the battle, and the gathering was pulling for the fighting Petrels to come through. But it was not to be. Oglethorpe developed a decided tendency to fumble, for the first time during the year, and this fault coupled with the speed of Harris, a Tiger Back, brought the downfall of the Robertson clan to the tune of 13 to 0.

The situation became desperate, and in the fact of things it was decided that Oglethorpe would play two games in one week. Spirit ran riot as the students sent the Petrels away at five o'clock in the morning to encounter Wofford College at the State Fair in Spartanburg. With fourteen defeats haunting their trail, the Stormy Petrels crashed through with a 32 to 0 win over the Wofford Terriers. Two days later the same Oglethorpe team fell in the wake of the Purple

The Mercer game came, and what a pippin it was. On the first kickoff of the game, Kid Cecil, Mercer Captain and quarterback, ran 85 yards for a touchdown, and Mercer failed to kick goal. The wise ones shook their heads and settled back to see the Petrels go down into inglorious defeat. But the Petrels had no idea of defeat, and that first score was but a signal for Oglethorpe to begin playing. How those boys did play. Mercer was outplayed all the first half, and all present saw that the Petrels would score before the game was over. Maurer, Kilgore and Gordy were advancing the ball in great style, and Nutty Campbell was running the team with superb generalship.

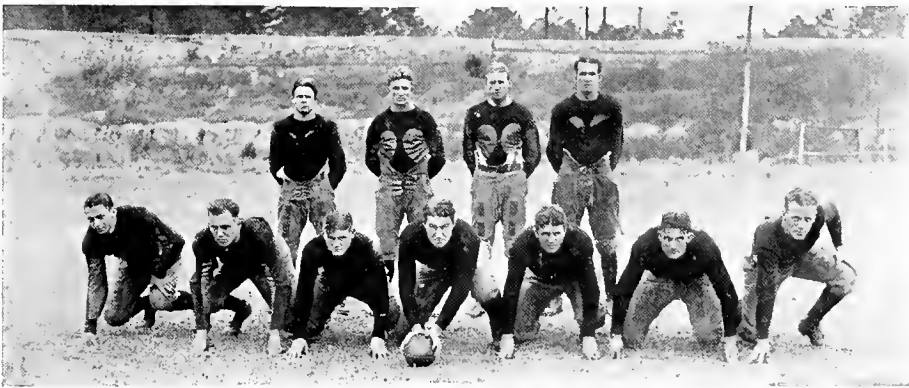

The second half came, and with it victory for the Fighting Oglethorpe team. Adrian Maurer made gain after gain, and he was aided materially by the great work of Gordy and Kilgore, who were playing great games. Finally, when it seemed that Maurer, the marked man, could no longer go, he advanced the ball within two yards of the Mercer goal, on a fine gain, and then carried it the remainder of the way. Kilgore with steady nerve booted the goal that meant the extra point and victory. The game was not over and the Baptists made one last drive, and the Petrels somewhat exhausted by the fury of their charge could not hold the enemy rushes until the ball was within the fifteen yard zone, when Oglethorpe braced and held for downs. Oglethorpe won 7 to 6, and the name of Maurer was on every tongue. His work was the greatest individual effort of the season, and the game was the best that was played in Atlanta during the football year. Hurricane from Furman. Coach Laval's men ran up a score equal to that of Centre, and the Oglethorpians were defeated 29 to 0.

Camp Benning proved easy pickings, and the Petrels brought home an easy victory by some 36 to 0.

Bo McMillan's widely renowned Centenary team came to Atlanta, and playing rough and rugged football, steam rolled the Petrels for a 14 to 0 win. It was an impossible task, and everyone was proud of the fine showing the Oglethorpe team made.

The final game of the season was played on Turkey Day in Chattanooga. The Oglethorpe team had little trouble in defeating the Chattanooga Moccasins on a field that was covered with mud and water and made it next to impossible to hold the ball. Only the sorry condition of the field saved the Moccasins from a rout. The final score was 12 to 0.

The season came to a close with the annual banquet and the election of Adrian Maurer as the captain of the team for 1924. At this banquet Coach Robertson expressed himself as being well pleased with the work of the boys, and especially commended them for their spirit. He expects great things of them in 1924.

Good Old Team

*It's a good old team and trusty
That wears the Old Gold and Black,
They're fair and square, that's why they bear
The laurels back;
And so whether victory's easy,
Or sad defeat mars the score,
They'll play the game and win the same
Pep-rip for the Petrels once more!*

Oglethorpe March

*Oh, come right on, old Oglethorpe, we're all for you!
Get in that fight, old Oglethorpe, you always do
Now step up, hit it, smash it, drive it, crash it right on through!
Old Oglethorpe, old Oglethorpe, we're all for you!*

Baseball Season Review

THE official record of the Oglethorpe baseball team for the 1923 season shows that the Petrels met defeat in a larger number of games than they were winners in. The Petrels won eight games and lost fourteen. But it is a generally accepted fact that the team playing away from home is at a decided disadvantage, and it happens that the Oglethorpe team played all but four games on the road. Of the four games played at home the local team won three, showing to a fair degree what the boys could accomplish under favorable conditions.

The early season games were the ones that spelled disaster for the Stormy Petrels. The Oglethorpe pitching staff was in bad condition all of the first part of the year, and the hurling duties fell upon the shoulders of untried men. The result of the weakened hurling corps was that Oglethorpe lost the first six games on the schedule. Yet in spite of the fact that the team lost a greater number of games than it won, it is a noteworthy fact that the Oglethorpe team scored a larger number of runs than did the opposing teams. Oglethorpe tallied 136 runs during the season as against 120 for their opponents.

Oglethorpe's greatest triumph of the year was an 18 to 1 victory over V. P. I. on Hermance field. Oglethorpe was also the participant in another freak game during the season a game with Tennessee, which the Vols eventually won by a score of 21 to 14.

The opening game of the season was against the Yale Bulldogs in Macon. Oglethorpe led the famous eastern team until the latter stages of the game, when the Bulldogs rallied and won out by a 5 to 4 score.

Another Eastern foe provided the opposition in the next brace of games and the Petrels again lost the series. The first game of the Penn State series went to the Nittany Lions at 7 to 3. The second day the Petrels used a freshman hurler against the Bezdek team, and Charley Peace held them at bay till the seventh inning, when an error coupled with the second hit that the Lions had made proved his undoing. Oglethorpe's bats were silent that day, and the Petrels went scoreless, losing the battle 5 to 0.

Mercer next came up from Macon and conquered. The ever invincible Tige Stone continued to display the jinx that he has always held over Oglethorpe, and the Petrels lost two games by virtue of his work both in the box and at bat.

Following the Mercer series the Petrels took a trip through Tennessee, and Kentucky. The first game of this trip was with Maryville College, and Peace again lost a hard game.

But the next day the Petrels broke the ice and with Lefty Willis hurling the apple and the wearers of the Gold and Black came through with a 10 to 8 victory. The second game of the Volunteer series resulted in the aforementioned freak game.

Lefty Willis again arose to the occasion on the next day, and with the added confidence of a victory behind him he shut out the Kentucky Wildcats while the Petrels were hammering out nine runs by virtue of timely hitting and fast base running.

The Petrels returned home following the Kentucky game, and entertained the Florida Alligators in a two game series. The 'Gators held a decision over the Atlanta Southern League team, but notwithstanding this fact the Petrels romped on the Gators in both of the games. The battles were staged in Buford.

Oglethorpe next played three games on Hermance field, and copped this trio of battles. The first was with V. P. I. and resulted in a slaughter for the Petrels. The Wildcats of Kentucky came next for two games, and dropped them both by scores of 8 to 2 and 7 to 6.

The pesky Georgia Bulldogs put a stop to Oglethorpe's winning streak of six games. The journey to the Classic City of Athens proved fatal to the Petrels, and the Georgia teams won both games. Both were hard fought battles, the first ending 2 to 0, and the second going to the enemy by a 6 to 5 score.

The Petrels won one more game during the rest of the season, the victory over Camp Benning. The soldiers copped the second game of the series.

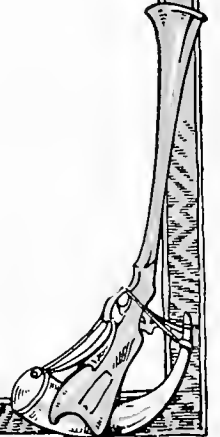

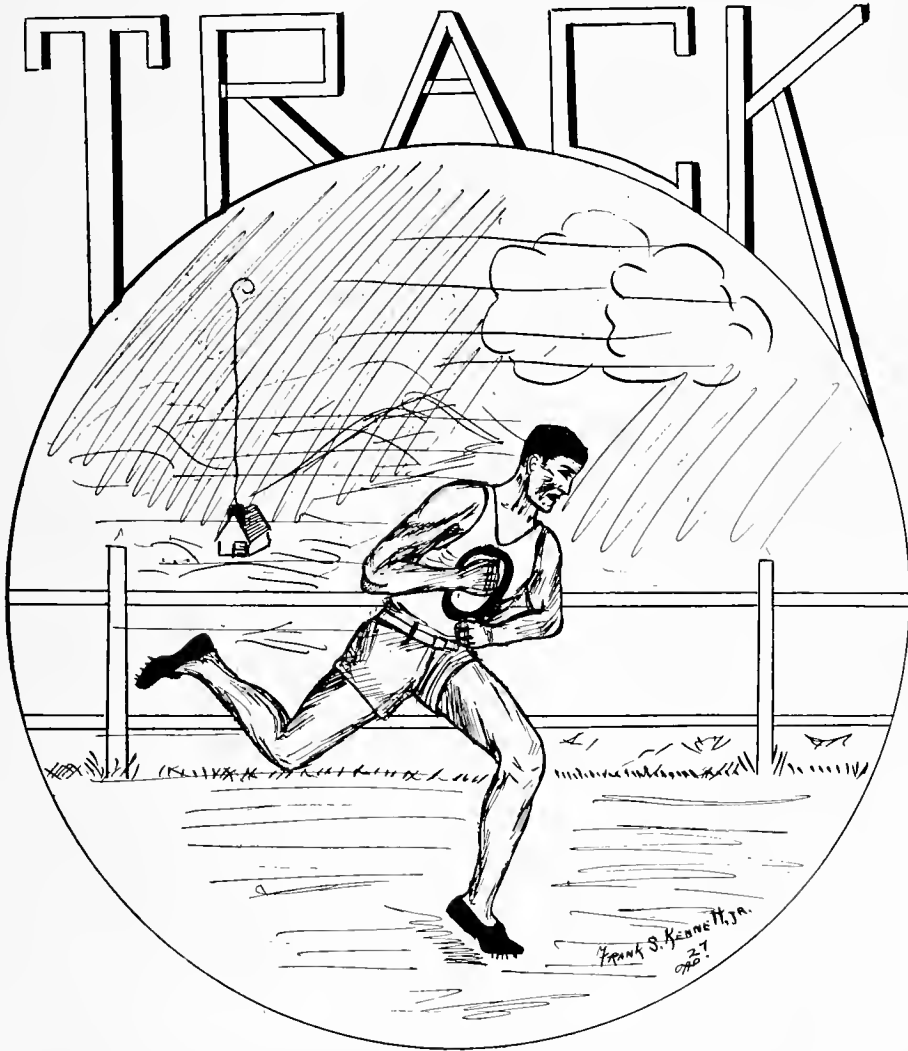

Mercer took two more battles, and then the Petrels lost both of the Tech games in the annual city Championship series. The Tech battles were hard fought affairs in which Pug Bryant, flashy Petrel catcher, distinguished himself by his fine all round play.

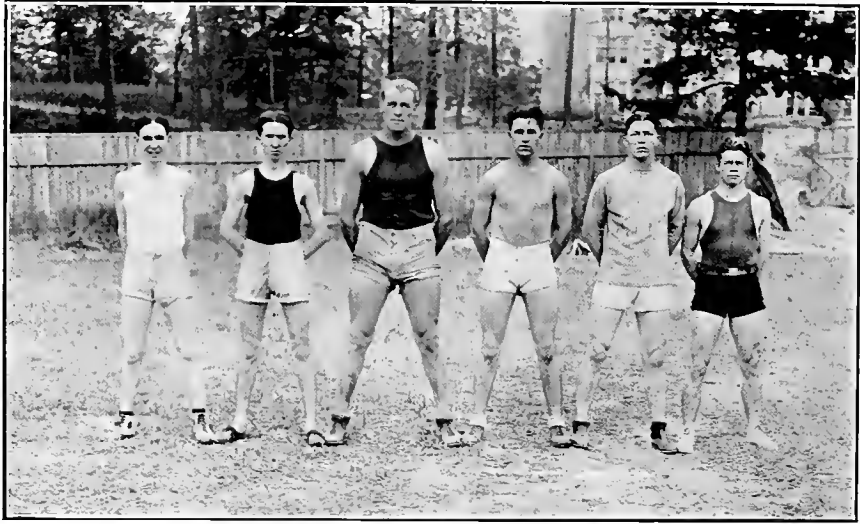

The Oglethorpe team of 1923 was a flashy, base running team. In 22 games the boys stole a season total 57 bases, or 2.6 bases per game. Adrian Maurer led the team in base stealing with 19 thefts in 21 games. He stole everything on the diamond but first base, and scored 22 runs.

Parrish led the team in batting with a percentage of 355. Willis was the leading pitcher, with 4 games won and 3 lost.

The season terminated with the election of Bryant as Captain of the '24 team. A scrappy, flashy player will lead the Petrels through the next season, and under his leadership the team has prospects for a fine year in 1924.

Track

"Tiny" Roberts led the Oglethorpe track team in scoring for the season. He is the holder of the Florida State and Georgia State records in both the shot-put and the discus throw. He also holds the Southeastern A. A. U. record for the discus throw. His best distances in the shot-put and the discus throw are 42 feet, and 133 feet 7 inches respectively.

"Red" Ivey experienced the worst season of his career at Oglethorpe. He failed to win a single first place, whereas, he had been in the habit of winning first place in both the century and the 220 in practically all of the past meets. However, this game-hearted little fighter gave his best at all times, and he scored many points for his team.

The two Tucker boys came into prominence for the first time. The work of Weyman Tucker was particularly notable, and the team rewarded him at the end of the season with the captaincy of the 1924 team.

These four, aided by McMekin and Frazer, made up the small constellation of which "Tiny" Roberts was the alpha star.

What is Your LIFE WORK to Be?

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE SAYS:

"He who sells an insurance policy sells a certificate of character, an evidence of good citizenship, an unimpeachable title to the right of self-government."

The need for insurance is as old as it is universal and more urgent in hard times than in prosperous periods. The life insurance agent is his own master, controlling his own time, earning in exact proportions to his successful effort, and finding no limit to the new applications of insurance to needs. The economic human value is now scarcely more than one-seventh protected.

I hate women,
They bore me.
Their perfume stings my eyes,
Their powder soils my coat,
Their talk drives me crazy,
They are fickle, oh! how fickle,
They lie unceasingly, everlastingly,
They dance horribly,

They always get in the way of my feet,
They are so dumb,
They love the "Do you know" game,
—I hate women,
They bore me.
Congratulate me, I have just
Announced my engagement.

LOVE

Love is variously described, but all authorities agree that excepting the unrequited variety, it is a pleasant delusion, a mania to be in close proximity to some person, in short, a mental disorder. At the same time if one tries to be original and tells his girl that he has an acute mental disorder about her, she is apt to conclude that he has the disorder, but that it is not love.

Divorces are usually the outcome of Platonic love. Platonic love is that which one man feels towards another man's wife when the other man is in the same room. When the husband is away the Platonism goes too. Hence, we may say that Platonic love varies directly as the husband.

Women love various things—Amusement, Dress, Food, Alcohol, and Themselves. Sometimes they condescend to care a little for a man. They do this in order to rope him into the matrimonial noose. Once they get a good man down, they love to keep him down on his uppers.

—DIRGE.
